Oakstone Academy, a private non-profit school in Columbus, is the only school in the nation that provides a full-inclusion placement for students with autism spectrum disorders (ASD) ages 18 months through high school and post-graduate.

This academic and social immersion program boasts classrooms consisting of 40% children with autism spectrum disorders and 60% children who are typically developing.

Unlike other schools that offer students with disabilities limited interaction with peers who do not have disabilities, Oakstone provides an educational school environment where students with ASD learn and socialize throughout the school day with typical peers.

Oakapella is Oakstone Academy's premier a cappella group. This talented mixed ensemble group is composed of 24 students, 9th-12th graders. Oakapella performs for school events, throughout their local community and state for various civic organizations, and competes at ICHSA (International Competition for High School Acapella) annually.

Every sound that you hear while listening to Oakapella is authentic, from the 7-part harmonies right down to the percussion replicated beatboxing.

The level of commitment from these young men and women is astonishing. They are continuously raising the level of expectation in their pursuit of excellence. Oakapella recorded its second CD last year, and is already looking forward to recording the third."

Volunteers!

Thanks to each of our Volunteers who made today possible.

Your heartfelt commitment to and respect of our Veterans is remarkable
